

Army to Pull More U.S. Troops Out of Little Rock

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army announced today another heavy cut in the number of troops and federalized National Guardsmen on school integration duty at Little Rock, Ark.

Secretary Wilber M. Brucker said the decision to reduce the troop contingent there was based on "the steady improvement in community stability noted currently in Little Rock."

The Army said this second round of troop reductions will be carried out "forthwith," and that thereafter 225 troops of the first battle group of the 101st Airborne Division will remain. There are now about 500 regular army soldiers in the Little Rock area.

The reduction also will apply to federalized National Guard units. The 153rd Infantry Regiment of the Guard, now totaling about 1,800 on duty, will be reduced to about 900.

The Army started out, with something over 1,000 regular troops in Little Rock. At the same time they were ordered in by President Eisenhower on Sept. 24, 10,500 National Guardsmen were ordered into federal service.

Bases to Hit Russia Plan of the U. S.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is expected to propose to allied nations the creation of a network of missile bases within striking distance of Soviet targets. The proposition may figure in President Eisenhower's meeting with leaders of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Paris in mid-December.

Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference yesterday that while the United States has already made arrangements with Britain for establishment of an intermediate range missile unit in the British Isles, he thought "it would be desirable to have them elsewhere."

The missiles involved would be those which like the Army's Jupiter and the Air Force Thor have an operational range of about 1,500 miles.

The arrangement made with the British at the Bermuda Conference last spring provides for the United States to furnish the missiles to Britain. Supplies of atomic or hydrogen warheads also would be kept close by, but those would remain in control of the United States ready for use if war broke out.

Dulles pictured the United States as being behind Russia in the development of ballistic missiles but said "I feel assured that we can catch up."

Dulles said that barring a breakdown in the Soviet system, he does not think the United States will ever again have the wide margin of superiority in military power which it had on the Soviet Union 10 years ago. That was just before the Russians exploded their first atomic device.

"In terms of the East-West power relationship he said, this creates a danger which forces the free nations to increase their unity and cooperation."

"I think that we do face a situation," he said, "where the danger is so great, where the consequences of not combining are so serious both in terms of military effectiveness and in terms of the cost of sustaining a military establishment, that there will be increasing acceptance of that point of view."

France as well as Britain has asked for missiles, and other European governments are understood to be interested.

The United States, for its part, needs advanced bases for intermediate range missiles if they are to serve the purpose of deterring the Soviets from aggression.

In covering a number of other current issues, Dulles said the ouster of Marshal Georgi Zhukov by Soviet Communist Party boss Khrushchev was a move for a military dictatorship in Russia.

He commented that the collapse of Russian charges against Turkey "doesn't mean that the situation in the Middle East is free of danger and that the independence of the Arab states is secure."

Senate Moves to Rid U. S. of Complacency

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee moved today to wring out any complacency remaining in the United States missile program as President Eisenhower hurried a report on the nation's progress.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas announced yesterday the Senate Preparedness subcommittee that he heads will launch a hard-hitting inquiry into the missile and satellite programs this month. Its purpose will be not to assess blame for delays, he said, but to help correct the "errors" he said have caused U.S. efforts in the rocketry field to lag behind those of Russia.

About the same time, the White House in a quick change of plans, announced that Eisenhower will address the nation by television and radio Thursday night on "science and security." He had scheduled a speech on that subject a week later, Nov. 13, in Oklahoma City.

Eisenhower was expected to try to relieve anxiety and reply to criticisms that have developed since Russia launched the first earth satellite—since followed by a second—a month ago.

Johnson said "we are lagging in both satellite and missile programs, but there is no reason to believe we can't catch up if we apply the necessary willpower, manpower and money to the problems involved."

French Give Top Priority to Algeria

PARIS (AP) — France's new premier today gave rebellious Algeria top priority in his legislative program.

Voted into office after the nation's longest postwar Cabinet crisis, Felix Gaillard told the National Assembly he would demand adoption of the Algerian home rule bill on which the last government of Maurice Bourges-Mounoury foundered Sept. 30. But Gaillard said he would accept amendments to give greater weight to the votes of French residents.

That might appease the French in Algeria. However, it appeared likely the Arab rebels would reject Gaillard's bill, just as they did Bourges-Mounoury's. The rebels demand independence.

Russians End Hopes for Any Tax Cut

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — R. P. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.) told a civic club here yesterday that Soviet missile progress could end any hopes for a federal tax reduction in the near future.

"Mills, a member of the House Ways and Means Committee, said Defense Department spending is above earlier anticipations while federal revenue this year is below expectations."

It remains to be seen, Mills said, whether the economy is slipping fast enough to need revival by means of a tax cut.

A Change of Weather Always Affects Mankind

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — A change of weather affects mankind. It always does.

One who loves people can develop a feeling toward the impact of weather on persons.

Sometimes it is good sometimes bad. Sometimes it is hidden.

On the effect of weather is obvious. The weather is a thing that gives me both an inspiration and a sense of duty. It does to most people.

On a visit to the far Northwest I saw a couple of Douglas fir trees cut down. It was a memorable scene. They made an echo as they fell. As they fell down the hill they fell across my heart. All those years of living, even in a tree, must all an echo.

But the individual death of a tree is not a personal thing, something not missed because you presumed its presence. There came a day when you looked toward it for routine comfort and it had gone. The shadow of the companion place was no longer there and the meadow held a mystery. You look back and the tree cut down holds the memory of something against the sky. Your eye remembers.

One tree against the forest? How in autumn can a man know his way through the forest except by the trees?

In the colorful wilderness of their falling leaves he feels a kinship knit by their shedding and his eternal human renewal.

There is a feeling of time and timing in this world—on the bough and in the man.

And in the time of falling leaves a man can walk in the wood and admire the scarlet splendor of nature in its final flourish and see the fall of leaves that happy child dream will rise up with a shout in the aspen's game beyond decay.

A man can endure the torment of autumn after autumn, the rigid repetitiveness of winter after winter, in the hope that he can enjoy again the fresh agony of spring next year after year.

Probers May Reveal More Crooked Deals

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said today his Senate Rackets Investigating Committee has evidence to expose in the months ahead what he called more crooked dealings between employers and labor union leaders.

Winding up hearings on the tactics used by Nathan W. Shefferman and firms which employed Shefferman's labor consulting service, McClellan said the committee will deal starting Nov. 12 with charges of racketeering in New York City's big and sprawling waste collection industry.

It will involve, he said, collusion practices by some companies with labor officials he declined to name—in part to squeeze out competitors of the employers. The committee has declined to discuss reports of a "boom" (Boom Boom) Anastasia would have been a witness had he not been shot down in a New York barber chair.

The committee would up its hearings on Shefferman's activities yesterday. McClellan read into the official record a statement that the evidence showed conduct by Shefferman, by some firms which hired him, and by some Teamsters Union people that "should be strongly condemned."

Survivors include his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Bleva Salisbury of Texarkana and Mrs. Margaret Archer of Hope.

Mystery Object Called Mirage by Astronomer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Harvard astronomer says mysterious objects reported from various parts of the country and the Gulf of Mexico are mirages stemming from natural causes.

Dr. Donald H. Menzel, director of the Harvard College Observatory, said yesterday in Cambridge, Mass., that the whole thing amounts to "another flying saucer scare."

The Air Force has started an investigation of the reported sightings of the strange glowing objects in the sky. The Air Force for years has had the responsibility of checking reports of unidentified flying objects.

A rash of such reports had developed since Sunday, with some of the sightings said to have been made near secret military installations in the Southwest. Some of the persons making the reports said the objects caused their auto engines to stall and their radios to fade.

Yesterday the Coast Guard cutter Sebago radioed from the Gulf of Mexico that an object resembling a brilliant planet with a high rate of speed was seen for about three seconds, and that it was tracked by radar.

Menzel said it is probable the cutter's crewmen got a false image "quite likely from bubbles of oil or rain in the atmosphere which would give a radar reflection."

As for reports of auto engines stalling, Menzel said "it would not be surprising that a nervous fad could stall an engine." Menzel, author of a book about flying saucers, said he has been studying them for 10 years and has yet to hear of one which could not be explained by natural phenomena.

Kiwanians Hear Local 4-H Youths

County Agent Oliver Adams, accompanied by three outstanding Hempstead county 4-H club youths, addressed the Hope Kiwanis club at its noon luncheon meeting yesterday at Hotel Barlow.

The youths, Richard McMurry of near Palmos, Gilbert Brown, Jr., of Spring Hill, and Lynn Evans of Columbus, spoke on a diversified farm program in which they told of overcoming various problems to make money in their field of endeavor. All three are 10th grade students.

Young McMurry told of his experience with 100 Hy-Line chickens presented to him by Cornbelt Hatcheries and the Sears Foundation. He said the revenue from the flock more than doubled the feed bill and also provided him with ample "spending money."

Gilbert Brown, Jr., is an outstanding registered Jersey breeder. He has won 102 ribbons and three trophies since 1954 by exhibiting his animals at livestock shows in Hope, Texarkana and Little Rock. He had the 102 ribbons to show the Kiwanians. He also told of the money profit derived from his registered Jersey herds.

Lynn Evans of Columbus spoke on forestry, and pointed to the 300 acres of timber, mostly in young pine, that he is helping develop at his farm home. He related his experience at the state forest camp in Hot Springs this year, and told of the opportunities in making timberland pay off as a cash farm crop.

County Agent Adams had praise for all Hempstead county 4-H boys and girls, and of farm families throughout the county. He told of their progress in a diversified program that included cotton, poultry, livestock, timber, broiler and egg production. Guests were Charles Harris, Camden and Wade Bene, field of Hope.

Two More Purged by the Russians

MOSCOW (AP) — Two men purged last June from Russia's ruling circle for "anti-party" activities turned up today at the jubilee meeting of the Supreme Soviet.

Lazar Kaganovich, a former member of the Communist party's Presidium now reported running a cement factory in the Urals, was seen in the members' area talking freely with old friends.

Dimitri Shepilov, former foreign minister now teaching school in central Asia, was seen in the foyer during a recess. Both he and Kaganovich appeared to be in excellent health.

The other two leaders ousted last June, former Foreign Minister N. M. Molotov and former Premier Georgi Malenkov, were not seen at the jubilee session.

Significant Democratic Victories Over Nation; GGC Candidates Win

By JACK BELL

AP Political Reporter

Democrats swept most significant races yesterday in an off-year election interpreted as indicating a measure of dissatisfaction with the Eisenhower administration's military and domestic policies.

Democrats won the big ones by victories in the governor races in New Jersey and Virginia and in the re-election of Mayor Robert F. Wagner Jr. of New York City.

Republicans held on to House seats in special elections in New Jersey and Pennsylvania in their only indication of stemming the Democratic tide.

Although none could assess accurately the political effect of the firing of two Soviet satellites, there was general opinion that this admitted American setback contributed to what could only be regarded as a Democratic sweep.

It seemed apparent the Democrats had cashed in to some extent on what Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate's Democratic leader, told reporters was the greatest indication he had ever received that the American people were worked up over an issue—the Russian ability to put satellites into space while the United States only talked about it.

He went against the party in control of winning any significant test in yesterday's balloting. They faced an off-year election trend that usually goes against the party in control of the White House. But some GOP members had hoped their candidates might do better than they did.

By JOHN K. LESAR

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner's national political stock hit a new high today after his resounding reelection victory over a Republican candidate who ran with President Eisenhower's full backing.

With 4,639 of New Jersey's 4,219 districts reported in yesterday's election Meyner led State Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes 1,534,581 to 854,609.

Meyner's plurality of 200,000 votes in a formerly Republican state was sure to add to his stature as a possible Democratic presidential or vice presidential candidate in 1960. Only minutes after Forbes conceded defeat at 11:13 p. m., some GOP leaders were seeing national issues as a partial cause of Meyner's victory.

"But even more surprising than the size of Meyner's plurality was a stunning Democratic sweep of the State Assembly, which the Republicans have controlled for 20 years. The Republicans held on to the State Senate by a reduced margin."

Soviet Reinforcing Scientific Centers

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union is heavily reinforcing its scientific centers in Siberia.

The Communist party newspaper Pravda published today an account of a general meeting of the Soviet Academy of Sciences at which it said many Soviet scientists have expressed a desire to move into eastern areas of our country and participate in its scientific development.

Pravda reported a speech in which I. V. Kurchatov of the Atomic Energy Institute assigned highly qualified physicists and engineers who would form the main cadres for the Institute of Physics in a new Siberian scientific center.

'Moonwatch' Teams Set Up Over Nation

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Moonwatch teams scanned the skies today in hopes of spotting Russia's second Sputnik. Meanwhile, a Senate group sought to spur U. S. efforts to catch up with the Soviets in the satellite-missile fields.

Officials alerted 195 Moonwatch teams to turn out during day-break hours when Sputnik II is expected to make three passes over the United States—one just off the East Coast, a second in the Midwest and a third in the Far West. The teams were alerted early morning passes are due tomorrow.

There was a report from Tokyo that Sputnik II is being preceded in its orbit by another object, so far unidentified.

Russia has launched two space satellites. The most recent, fired aloft last Sunday, weighs more than half a ton and carries a small female dog—the world's first space traveler. The United States, according to current plans, will not fire its first small test spheres until next month. Launching of a fully instrumented American satellite is planned for March.

Russia's soaring satellites have brought many comments and perhaps the most amusing was made by the Star's makeup man who declared the front page of the newspaper nowadays "looks like something from science fiction" . . . or from the boss himself commenting on horrified humane societies concerned over sending up a dog — "they should be thankful it was a dog — the Russians would think nothing of sending up a human being."

Agent Oliver Adams gave Kiwanians some interesting data at yesterday's luncheon. . . He said the county's cotton allotment this year was 11,710 acres of which 4

All But One of Segregation Slate Defeated

By The Associated Press

A slate of candidates who are lukewarm on the racial issue yesterday captured six out of seven Little Rock city director positions over segregationist opponents on the basis of complete but unofficial returns.

The slate had been backed by the Good Government Committee, a group which had initiated the fight toward a change from the mayor-council to the city manager form of government months before the recent integration crisis at Little Rock Central High.

There were numerous city elections around the state but Little Rock was centered on the "close campaign" in Little Rock.

Only one of seven candidates backed by the Capital Citizens Council was successful and three of the races were not decided until the final box was tabulated early today.

The Good Government Committee had declared that the racial issue had nothing to do with the campaign, but the Citizens Council group sharply criticized the committee, candidates and focused attention on the integration question. And G-G-C candidates today admitted that voters obviously had considered integration the overriding issue.

Predominantly Negro precincts cast overwhelming majorities for the G-G-C group.

Leo H. Griffin, a committee candidate who won by a close margin, said: "We tried to make the issue good government, but they the Citizens Council backed candidates made it the racial question."

Another successful committee candidate, G. W. Blankenship, said that he had felt Fabius in fluence against him in the campaign. He said the strong segregation vote "in part" represented an endorsement of Fabius' policies.

The racial issue was dramatized in the campaign between Mrs. Clyde Thomason, an official of the anti-integration Mothers League of Central High, and Mrs. Edgar F. Dixon. The Citizens Council publicized the fact that Mrs. Dixon was a former member of the School Board although she served before the present integration plan was presented in 1954. Mrs. Nixon polled 10,995 votes to 10,513 for Mrs. Thomason.

The Citizens Council — backed candidate who ran a successful race was Letcher F. Langford, an insurance man who polled 12,422 votes, to 9,277 for attorney Leland F. Leatherman.

Other results included: Mrs. Margaret C. Jackson, another official of the Mothers League, 9,983; H. L. Winburn, 10,746; C. E. Heer, 9,135; Blankenship, 10,590; Mrs. F. E. Bates, 8,921; Leo H. Griffin, 9,674; H. H. Crow, 9,643; Werner C. Knopp, 10,311; E. A. Lauderdale, 9,410.

Candidates had to seek one of seven places and could not turn at large. Besides the seven Good Government candidates and the seven endorsed by the Citizens Council, seven other candidates ran as independents.

In other ballot issues Little Rock voters overwhelmingly passed a

Hope Auto to Show the New Ford Nov. 7

The 1958 Ford car line featuring major styling changes, the most efficient engines in the car's history, a new automatic transmission and new optional air suspension, will go on display at Hope Auto Co. here Nov. 7. J. O. Wright, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager, announced today.

"At a cost of $185,000,000 we have developed a new Ford that incorporates some of the most extensive changes ever made in the car," Mr. Wright said.

Historically, auto companies have made basic changes in their cars every three years, he pointed out.

"But in its 1958 model, Ford has actually created fundamental design and engineering changes just one year after its completely new 1957 model," he said.

Demonstrating this change are twenty-one models on two separate wheelbases; the Fairlane and the Fairlane 500, with an overall length of 207 inches, and the Custom, Custom 300 and the station wagon, measuring 202 inches.

The external appearance of the new car features Ford's sculptured-metal treatment in which styling lines are molded into the sheet metal itself.

The new distinctive styling is emphasized in a front view of the massive wrap-around one-piece bumper with anodized aluminum "jet intake" grille, dual headlights, and Power Flow hood. New sheet metal treatment incorporates re-designed front fenders, new roof with seven front-to-rear flutes by Mrs. McCabe. A discussion on Japan was given by Mrs. E. P. Young Jr., and during her talk, she displayed several pictures.

Having lived in Japan during the war, Mrs. Young's presentation was most interesting.

Mrs. Slith Davenport gave the devotional, "Prayer Life of a Christian."

Twelve members and one visitor were served a lovely dessert plate with coffee.

Marilyn Ready for Career, More Family

By BOB THOMAS

NEW YORK (AP) — Almost two years after the loss of a baby, Marilyn Monroe says she is eager to get back to work — and also to have a big family.

In her new East Side apartment, Marilyn displayed a sweet smile in a light blue dress which emphasized her loss of weight since her miscarriage in August.

"I'm almost well again," Marilyn said in her usual breathless style.

"I've started going back to the Actor's Studio, to observe and also to take private lessons from Lee Strasberg. I'll be ready to do a picture, though I don't know if it will be 'Blue Angel,' as the studio has announced. I haven't seen the script yet."

"Arthur Miller, (her husband) and I are also busy with our new film — we bought 200 acres in Connecticut. We have just a farm house on it now, but we're going to build a house."

"Frank Lloyd Wright is going to design it for us, and he'll go up there with us the next time he's in town. We'll need a house with plenty of room. We have two children (Miller's by a previous marriage) and there'll be plenty or grooves, and trunk lid and rear quarter panel innovations. From the rear, the 1958 Ford is distinctive with a "V" sculptured trunk lid flaring into twin safety oval taillights.

We invite you to compare the materials and workmanship of these coats with others retailing at 10.95.

organization, easily beat down the second challenge of Republican Ted Dalton.

Alton lost by a 9 to 3 margin on a program that called for modification on the schools-race issue. His plan would have substituted for massive resistance a program permitting token integration — enough, he said, to satisfy the requirements of federal court orders.

The Democratic big guns shot at his program constantly. They ridiculed the plan as one that would fight integration by accepting it. The results indicated the shots found the mark, especially in the central and southern areas where the Negro population is substantial to heavy and the Negro vote small.

Near complete returns gave Almond 63.73 per cent of a vote that topped a half million, a record for Virginia in a non-presidential election.

NEW YORK — Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner won a second term last night by 920,000 votes — largest majority ever rolled up for a mayor in the history of the nation's largest city.

The son of the late New Deal Senator, Robert F. Wagner Sr., amassed 1,507,342 votes to 367,400 for Republican Robert K. Christenberry, a hotel executive backed by President Eisenhower.

The size of Wagner's victory was being studied in political circles for possible national implications.

Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman was quick to say it reflected voter disillusionment with "the form of Republicanism you see in Washington under President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon."

Other Democratic leaders spoke in similar vein.

The triumph raised the question whether Democratic leaders would call upon Wagner to strive for higher office although he has said the "God willing" he will serve out his four-year term as mayor.

Wagner captured every one of the city's five boroughs and ran particularly well in Manhattan's predominantly Negro Harlem section.

Reveals Ike Will Not Visit England

LONDON (AP) — The authoritative Press Assn. said today President Eisenhower will not pay a state visit to Britain when he comes to Europe Dec. 10 because of what it described as the illness of Mrs. Eisenhower.

The dispatch said the President intends to return the Queen's visit as a later date.

Mrs. Eisenhower recently underwent an operation. It was understood in Britain that air travel would not be good for her at this time.

Club, scheduled to sail for Europe on June 23.

"I went with the Glee Club, to the surprise of a good many people," he said. "I never regretted it."

"Such a decision, he feels, is one reason why he still is heard on the air waves while many a well-known singer of years past has faded.

"I wanted to sing," he said, "and I had a bit of hard work to do. I wanted to be basically well grounded as a professional singer. If you have that basic training, you can change and develop your style. Some make a hit with a particular style for a time, but it's difficult to survive without the basic hard work."

Luck and the help of friends play an important part too said Ross. Perhaps there was an element of luck in a 1931 decision of his.

He was among a group of young hopefuls lined up for the cast of a new musical "The American Revue" that year. But he also was doing a 15-minute program in radio — and consequently appearing late for rehearsals. The producer warned him to choose either the show or radio.

"I chose radio," said Ross. "The show ran a year and a half on Broadway. But I've run 23 years on radio."

Radio Career Involves Many Decisions

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP) — A 23-year career in the highly competitive world of radio involves a man in some difficult decisions.

So says Lanny Ross who certainly should know. One of radio's memorable singers, he is celebrating his 25th anniversary in the medium. At present he offers five and one-half hours weekly of song, conversation and disc-spinning on CBS Radio's New York station, (9:03 a.m., EST. Mondays through Saturdays).

Many have forgotten that Ross was a great track star at Yale. Ross says there probably would not have been a radio career at all if he had gone abroad as a member of the 1928 Olympic team.

A great quarter miler and holder of the AAU 300-yards indoor title he was named to the Olympics, "I was scheduled to sail for Europe on June 28." He also was leader and soloist of the Yale Glee club. He was a member of the Yale Glee club.
